WOMEN'S

HISTORY

MONTH

As co-chairs of the Women in Medicine (WIM) committee of the Northwestern Medical Alumni Association Board, we want to celebrate Women's History Month with you. We also want to highlight some of the excellent achievements that the women of our alma mater accomplished throughout the years.

An example of one of the earliest groundbreaking women in Feinberg's history is Mary Harris Thompson, 1870 MD. She was the first woman to earn her medical degree from the Chicago Medical College (Northwestern University) and the first woman surgeon in Chicago. We invite you to learn more about her and the many successful women who walked through the doors of Northwestern University here. These women are extraordinary examples of what makes Feinberg the successful medical school that it is today.

Today and every day, we recognize the importance of women in medicine and honor the exceptional work that women do in the medical field.

Connect with us on Instagram, the WIM Facebook group, and the Medical Alumni Association Facebook page to stay current on upcoming events and updates.

Be well, and we look forward to connecting with you all!

From the Director's Desk:

Dear Alumni,

We hope that you are having a great spring.

Just a reminder, our Alumni Weekend has moved to fall! Alumni Weekend 2023 will be held October 13-14 on campus. Please be on the lookout for more messaging in the upcoming months, with registration opening in June. We look forward to welcoming you back to campus with a host of activities including CME forums, campus and city tours, Celebrate in Chicago, an all-class celebration, and class dinners!

Please reach out with any questions, or if you would like to get more involved with your reunion class planning.

Thank you,
Babette

The Joy and Power of Our Community

On March 24, women across the Northwestern Medicine community gathered both in-person and virtually for the 5th annual Northwestern Women in Medicine conference. Of the 300 registrants, 200 gathered together in person and nearly 100 joined the conversation remotely!

This year's theme, "The Joy and Power of Our Community," explored how women in medicine face unique challenges and barriers throughout their professional paths. These obstacles may impact leadership opportunities and career advancement, resulting in a gender gap in the governance of academic medical centers. The conference sought to identify the factors that contribute to gender inequity and shed light on such disparities, as well as offer a space to share experiences and tools to overcome them so as to empower the next generation of female physicians and foster a network of support.

The Women in Medicine committee of your Northwestern Medical Alumni Association Board was pleased to co-host the event, and welcome alumni and friends at the evening's cocktail reception. For photos from the event, view our online album.

Thank you to all who attended!

What Does It Mean to Be a Woman in Medicine?

On the Northwestern Intersections podcast, alumni share stories about how key experiences have propelled them in their life's work. Alumni guests share what they've done right and wrong and what they've learned at each intersection along the way.

What Does It Mean to Be a Woman in Medicine? Part 1

Episode 135 features WIM Committee co-chairs Shelly Vaziri Flais '95, '99 MD, '02 GMER, and Kavitha Gandhi '94, '98 MD, '99 GMER, as well as MAA Board president-designate Nupur Ghoshal, '01 PhD, '03 MD.

"It started with the first Women in Medicine Tea hosted at The Drake Hotel in Chicago in 2017. It was a chance for Feinberg alumnae across generations to come together in one place to freely share their stories, their challenges, and their victories. Dr. Ghoshal recalls asking, 'How do we bottle this moment?' The mission of the Women in Medicine (WIM) subcommittee of the Medical Alumni Association Board is to elevate and amplify the voices of fellow women in medicine. In part 1 of this episode, Drs. Flais, Gandhi, and Ghoshal share how they all came to be involved with WIM and highlight the subcommittee's mentorship and philanthropic initiatives. They'll also explain how the most important instigator of progress is showing up and being intentional about change."

To listen to the episode, visit the Northwestern Intersections website.

Stay tuned for Episode 135: Part 2 coming out on March 30.

NORTHWESTERN INTERSECTIONS: WHAT DOES IT MEAN TO BE A WOMAN IN MEDICINE?

Your MAA: Coast to Coast

Your Medical Alumni Association hosted a jam-packed schedule of events for alumni and friends of the medical school this winter. From California to Arizona and New York, we were thrilled to have the opportunity to connect with so many of you at our recent events in February and March. Read on to learn more about these exciting coast-to-coast get-togethers.

Interested in hosting an alumni gathering in your area? Contact us at medalum@northwestern.edu.

February Arizona Events

The MAA had a great time hosting events in Arizona on February 23, 24, and 25. On February 23, we hosted a terrific alumni gathering in Phoenix where many of our alumni were able to meet and connect with fellow local alumni and friends of the medical school. The next day, on February 24, we welcomed alumni and friends for a fantastic Feinberg gathering in Scottsdale. Last but not least, on February 25, after a three-year hiatus due to the pandemic, over 125 alumni and guests from all over the country joined us once again in Mesa at Sloan Park to watch the Chicago Cubs take on the San Francisco Giants in a spring training game. The Cubbies took home a win, defeating the Giants 10-8.

Thank you to everyone who joined us from near and far!

March San Diego Alumni Get-Together

Your MAA had a blast in San Diego hosting a gathering for our physical therapy alumni as well as local medical alumni on February 23. Our PT alums joined us from all over the country for a get-together held in conjunction with the 2023 American Physical Therapy Association Combined Sections Meeting. This special event gave us an opportunity to celebrate this vital alumni group and the contributions they make to their community, profession, patients, and Northwestern. Thank you to all of our PT and MD alumni who joined us!

A Night With Northwestern in New York

On March 9, in collaboration with the Northwestern Alumni Association (NAA), Feinberg hosted a dynamic presentation as part of the NAA's "A Night With Northwestern" series. Faculty panelists Clyde W. Yancy, MD, MSc; Emily J. Rogalski, '07 PhD; Francesca Elizabeth Duncan, PhD; and Douglas E. Vaughan, MD (pictured above, left to right), tackled fascinating questions such as why do some people age faster than others? And since tests can now pinpoint how long an individual will live, do you want to know and what's next? The presentation touched on how industry focus has shifted from prolonging lifespan to extending "healthspan" and what that might mean for your future healthcare.

Thank you to all of our New York alumni who joined us and to our panelists for an outstanding event!

March Celebrations: Alumni Spotlight

March 6 is Dentists' Day!

In celebration of Dentists' Day, we are thrilled to honor our Northwestern University Dental School (NUDS) graduates. With 107 years in existence, the Dental School produced some of the top dentists in the country. A great source of pride for the MAA, our NUDS alumni have made and continue to make transformative contributions to the field.

Thank you for all that you do!

March 30 is Doctors' Day!

We are grateful for this annual opportunity to celebrate our MD and GME alumni. Alumni of our medical school, residency, and fellowship programs are dedicated leaders in their field. Your work and commitment have inspired so many others, many of whom are now following in your footsteps. Your impact continues to elevate the legacy of your alma mater.

Thank you for all that you do!

Winter APFs: An Impressive Lineup

The Medical Alumni Association's mentoring series Alumni Physicians of Feinberg \(APF\) finished strong this winter with three more of our distinguished alumni sharing their time, journey, and insights with our students.

During these fantastic APFs, students had the opportunity to hear from Michael J. Vasconcelles '85, '89 MD, and Kenneth Beck, MD, '96 GMER. Northwestern University Physical Therapy Alumni Association Vice President Aben Cooper '95 MPT, MBA, also spoke to our PT students as part of an exclusive Alumni Physical Therapists of Feinberg special event.

Michael J. Vasconcelles '85, '89 MD

On February 24, Michael J. Vasconcelles '85, '89 MD (pictured left and above), executive vice president of Research, Development, and Medical Affairs at ImmunoGen, Inc. spoke with our students who had excellent questions about his day-to-day life at a biotech company. A trained oncologist, he shared how he enjoys working for companies who are changing the way cancer is treated. He encouraged our students to work with and lean on mentors throughout their time in medical school and beyond. Dr. Vasconcelles also is senior adviser to the Life Sciences team at Frazier Healthcare Partners, non-executive director of Molecular Partners AG and Magenta Therapeutics, Inc., a member of the board of the Personalized Medicine Coalition, and a member of the Eastern New England Board of the American Cancer Society. Thank you, Dr. Vasconcelles!

Kenneth Beck, MD, '96 GMER

On March 8, Kenneth Beck, MD, '96 GMER (pictured left), pathologist and laboratory director at UroPartners Laboratory, spoke with our APF students. UroPartners is a large single-specialty practice in the Chicagoland area and Southern Wisconsin. Dr. Beck has been in practice since 1995 and has worked at NorthShore Highland Park Hospital and Lake Forest Hospital prior to UroPartners. His residency training was at the Evanston Hospital in anatomic and clinical pathology, and he received his MD at Loyola University, Stritch School of Medicine. Dr. Beck shared his thoughts, experiences, and insights, offering advice for our medical students as they enter the field professionally. Thank you to Dr. Beck for leading this popular and engaging session for our students!

Aben Cooper '95 MPT, MBA

On March 8, Northwestern University Physical Therapy Alumni Association Vice President Aben Cooper '95 MPT, MBA (pictured left), spoke to our PT students as part of an exclusive Alumni Physical Therapists of Feinberg special event. Mr. Cooper encouraged the students to use their Northwestern network when they graduate and shared stories of why he joined the Physical Therapy Alumni Association Board. He also encouraged the students to try different types of PT—inpatient, home health, travel, athletics, outpatient, etc. He assured the students that PT's will always be in demand, and that there are plenty of opportunities available. The students asked lots of specific questions and greatly enjoyed this special session. Thank you, Mr. Cooper!

We honor the late Howard S. Traisman '43, '46, '47 MD, former professor emeritus in the Department of Pediatrics. Dr. Traisman would have celebrated his 100th birthday on March 18, 2023. Both he and his wife Reggie were beloved members of the Northwestern medical community who were deeply committed to the University and its students. The Traisman legacy lives on today through their endowed Scholarship. For more information on the Traisman Scholarship, please contact medalum@northwestern.edu. Congratulations to the Traisman family on this incredible, enduring legacy!

Lucy A. Godley, '97 MD, PhD, has been named the inaugural director of the Jeff and Marianne Silver Family Blood Cancer Institute of the Robert H. Lurie Comprehensive Cancer Center, effective April 1. She also will serve as clinical director of Cancer Genetics. Made possible by a philanthropic investment from the Jeffrey and Marianne Silver Family Foundation, the Silver Family Blood Cancer Institute of the Lurie Cancer Center was established to strengthen and expand emerging research and clinical trials in the Lurie Cancer Center Center's Hematologic Malignancies Program. A nationally recognized expert in the treatment of patients with leukemia and myelodysplastic syndromes, Dr. Godley is currently professor of Medicine in the Section of Hematology and Oncology and professor of Human Genetics at the University of Chicago. Congratulations, Dr. Godley!

Steven R. Deitcher '86, '88 MD, will be featured in the Top 100 Innovators & Entrepreneurs magazine. As founder, chief executive officer, and chair of Bespoke Biotherapeutics, a B-cell bioengineering company, Dr. Deitcher's work in finding solutions for solid-tumor cancers are supported by fourteen granted and several pending patents. "Our goal is to dramatically improve patient outcomes and reduce the side-effects of anti-cancer therapies," he shared. By using advanced genome engineering technology to reprogram B-cells with the ability to make and locally deliver multiple anticancer treatments directly to tumor cells, immune system cells are now becoming capable of actively locating and destroying cancer cells within the body. Congratulations, Dr. Deitcher!

Anita K. Lane '87, MD, '94 GMER, has been announced as an alumni recipient of the Joliet Catholic Academy's 2023 Hall of Champions: Business and Industry. The mission of the Hall of Champions: Business and Industry is to honor graduates for their accomplishments throughout their professional careers ranging from medicine, law, education, entertainment, business, technology, and more. Dr. Lane is the owner and co-founder of Touchstone Internal Medicine in Colorado Springs, Colorado. Congratulations, Dr. Lane!

Leo Gordon, '73 MD, gave an animated reading at the inaugural meeting of the Cedars-Sinai Medical Center Center for Humanities in Medicine. His essay, "Out of Touch," is a bittersweet assessment of progress in surgery as human disease has moved further and further from his hands by way of laparoscopy and robotics. To read "Out of Touch," visit the General Surgery News publication website. Congratulations, Dr. Gordon!
